Introduction

Professor Chloe Orkin
Chair
British HIV Association (BHIVA)

Dear Colleague

A warm welcome to this year's BHIVA Autumn Conference which we are holding once again at the QEII Centre, in the heart of London.

I would like to thank Dr Iain Reeves (Conference Sub-committee Chair), and all the members of the Conferences Subcommittee for their efforts in preparing an excellent programme for this conference. The conference sessions will cover a wide range of important topics relevant to HIV. Please refer to the programme pages for a full schedule of topics and timings.

The BHIVA Annual General Meeting will be held on Friday, 4 October, prior to lunch. I would encourage all BHIVA members to attend this meeting, as it provides a forum to present any points they may have to the BHIVA Officers and members of the Executive Committee.

Finally, we would like to thank our sponsors for their continued support of the Association, which assists greatly with covering some of the costs incurred in organising this conference.

We very much hope you enjoy the programme and find it relevant to both your educational and practical needs.

Professor Chloe Orkin
Chair, British HIV Association (BHIVA)

His clinical interests include opportunistic and lung infections in HIV, as well as non-infectious complications of HIV. Research interests have focused on the role of macrophages in the pathogenesis of HIV and other infectious diseases, in particular lung infections. He is a former Wellcome Trust Senior Clinical Fellow and is a co-editor of the BHIVA OI Guidelines.

Mr Andrew Evans

Andrew spent 20-years in the NHS at operational and strategic levels covering both finance and operational roles, culminating in the position of Associate Director of Operations and Finance at University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust. He has over 17-years' experience in the HIV and Sexual Health sector, initially as a Trustee and then Chair for The Eddystone Trust before becoming their Director of Operations & Finance in 2012. He's successfully achieved the expansion of the Charity from a Devon-focused footprint to an area that now stretches from Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly, to Herefordshire & Worcestershire in the Midlands thus guaranteeing that support for people living with HIV and the prevention services and messages across the areas are delivered to the right person, in the right way, at the right time and place for them. As a member of regional and national Boards, such as the South West Sexual Health Programme, HIV Prevention England and PHE Reporters Forum, Andrew is an active contributor to the wider Sexual Health agenda ensuring that national updates are translated into local action plans and that local issues are represented within regional and national forums to raise awareness of the South West's context.

Ms Anne Glew

Anne Glew is the HIV Prevention Coordinator within the HIV Service at the Brunswick Centre, a small charitable organisation that works across two local authority areas in West Yorkshire, made up of small urban and remote rural areas. She works with communities most at risk of HIV to inform, empower and support individuals from these communities to prevent HIV transmission, and seeks to redress the health and social inequalities experienced by these communities. Anne's background is in Community Development, she managed a Local Authority Community Work and Community Safety Team for over 25 years and puts her experience to good use in this role. Using community development models to encourage individuals to be actively involved in the identification and definition of the needs of their own communities. Anne represents the Brunswick Centre at HPE where they are a Local Activation Partner (LAP).

Dr Annette Haberl

Annette Haberl is the head of the HIV and Women department at the HIVCENTER at the University Clinic, Frankfurt. She is a member of multiple German guidelines groups including the management of the antiretroviral treatment of adults, the management of pregnant women with HIV and the management of people using HIV-PrEP. Dr Annabel Sowemimo

Annabel is a Community Sexual & Reproductive Health trainee having completed additional degrees in SRH Research and Medical Anthropology. Whilst at medical school, she spent her time campaigning on Global Health, assisted in developing training for medical students on Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) and developing an award winning Drama outreach project – Dramajam. She is now a contributor and freelance journalist for online platforms including Black Ballad and gal-dem.com writing on a range of health, social justice and cultural issues. Annabel is founder of Decolonising Contraception a community interest company aimed at addressing the unethical history in sexual and reproductive health particularly experimentation on people of colour. Decolonising contraception is about understanding how culture and history impact these populations and affect how they experience sexual & reproductive health care. Decolonising Contraception are currently planning the first sexual health & well-being festival for people of colour in the UK. Annabel firmly believes that healthcare should be about empowering people with knowledge to make informed choices about their bodies. She spends her spare time campaigning on reproductive justice and improving healthcare for marginalised groups. When she is not in scrubs or in clinic; she is trying her best to dismantle patriarchy.

Dr Anne Sullivan

Ann Sullivan is an HIV Consultant Physician at Chelsea and Westminster Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, Honorary Senior Lecturer at Imperial College and interim co-lead for National HIV Surveillance at PHE.
