1	Whole guideline			The document refers only to management of the ectopic pregnancy but I cannot see any recommendation that women with an ectopic pregnancy should be screened for sexually transmitted infection (STI) with a vulvovaginal NAAT test for gonorrhoea and chlamydia as part of their care. This is a test which can be easily done by the patient themselves or by a healthcare provider. It would be important to rule out an STI as a cause for ectopic pregnancy therefore I would suggest it be added to the introduction.
